SPLATSIN HERITAGE DEEP WITH TRADITION

LOOKING FORWARD

Local history has its beginnings with the Splatsin people of the Secwepemc Nation, which has occupied its traditional territory in the Shuswap for thousands of years. Splatsin is the Yucwmenlúcwu (caretaker of the land) on behalf of the Secwepemc nation for a vast area stretching from the Mica Creek area in the north all the way down the Columbia River to the US border, and Monte Lake in the west. Splatsin also has three reserves; IR#1 Salmon River, IR#2 Enderby and IR#3 Sicamous. Splatsin maintains Secwepemc culture through practicing the Secwepemc language, cultural events and activities on the land.

The Shuswap River was an integral transportation route used to travel from village to village and to food gathering areas of Splatsin. An annual camp at Cooke Creek Campground on the Shuswap River east of Enderby each August recalls those traditions and instills Splatsin culture in future generations.

Splatsin has a population of almost 1,000, both on and off reserve. The Splatsin are governed by an elected Chief and five Councillors who serve two-year terms, soon to be a three-year term.

The Splatsin are the most southern tribe of the Shuswap Nation, the largest Interior Salish speaking First Nation in Canada whose aboriginal territory stretches from the BC/Alberta border near the Yellowhead Pass to the plateau west of the Fraser River, southeast to the Arrow Lakes and to the upper reaches of the Columbia River.

Splatsin Today and Tomorrow

The Splatsin community supports a daycare, school, health centre and they are their own taxing authority, allowing Splatsin to manage land and collect taxes from non-status lessees. The recently constructed Splatsin Community Centre, set to be open the summer of 2015, is the new hub of the community, providing space for cultural events, conferences, concerts, banquets and educational and recreational activities plus employment. The beautifully constructed structure features a living roof, traditional pictographs on the exterior, an arbour/fire pit area and interior design honouring Splatsin elders. There is a full kitchen, capable of feeding 1,000 people and a basement area for Splatsin members to process wild game.

A new boardroom and administrative offices are located on Hwy. 97A. There is a fully stocked convenience store and an art gallery filled with unique and beautiful Aboriginal arts and crafts. The building is adorned with detailed carvings on massive timbers.

The Splatsin Development Corporation (SDC) oversees or is partnered with successful businesses, municipalities and forest companies in various enterprises within traditional Splatsin territory. Current enterprises include a forest management company, the Esso service station and restaurant, Quilakwa RV

Park, a construction and environmental services company, and the Monashee Community Forest.

Looking forward, the SDC is actively seeking opportunities within its traditional territory in various sectors including mining, agriculture, independent power production, energy, forestry, environmental services, construction and tourism.

The recently constructed Splatsin Community Centre, set to be open the summer of 2015, is the new hub of the community.

EXPERIENCE NATURE MEADOWS & FORESTS

You'll find a diverse range of natural habitats in Enderby, making it home to many animal and plant species. As a travel corridor for wildlife, you are sure to sight wildlife in the North Okanagan including several sensitive grassland and wetland species, some not found elsewhere in Canada. Keep your eyes open for mule and white-tail deer, beavers, otters, marmots and bears. You may even spot a coyote, moose or cougar. You will delight in the sheer array of songbirds found along waterways, in the subalpine meadows and forest. Look for osprey along hydro lines and eagle nests in trees along the river. You can spot the colours of cow vetch, goatsbeard, common chicory, foxglove, ox-eye daisy, clover, wild strawberry and heather and enjoy the palette of greens in the forest of cedar, pine, spruce, birch, aspen, cottonwood and more.

OUTDOOR DISCOVERY LIVING CLASSROOM

The Kingfisher Interpretive Centre, located 25 kms east of Enderby, is a great place to explore riverside trails and learn about salmon, fishing, the river, and local biodiversity.

The award-winning facility is nestled amongst 10 acres of cedar-hemlock rainforest situated along the banks of the Shuswap River. It is a community-run salmon hatchery and a 'living classroom.' Hundreds of school children and others visit the centre each year to learn about the importance of salmon, watershed protection and restoration, take part in activities and events, release salmon fry into the river, and explore the forest on marked trails. You can take a tour of the hatchery to learn how things work and go inside a traditional First Nations' dwelling called a kekuli.

The centre also hosts an egg take public event each Thanksgiving weekend to collect salmon eggs and milt to produce some of next year's baby salmon.

The Centre is recovering from a major debris slide that occurred in May 2014. Major progress has been made towards recovery and the site is open to the public. Anyone looking for volunteer activities are urged to contact the Centre as there is still work to do. It is also an opportunity to see the power and also the resilience of nature.

A RIVER OF ACTIVITIES FOUND IN ABUNDANCE

AMAZING ADVENTURES

Natural Beauty.

One of the more distinct features of Enderby & District is the beloved Shuswap River, flowing west from Mabel Lake to Mara Lake. In the early days, the river was a primary source for the transportation of goods. The infamous river drives occurred on the Shuswap River from the late 1800s to 1967. Logs were run down the river from Sugar Lake to the sawmill and pole yards in Enderby.

Today, the river is a recreational paradise for those seeking pristine nature or amazing adventure. Canoeing, kayaking, tubing, rafting, fishing and swimming opportunities can all be found in abundance along the Shuswap River. For nature lovers, this area is home to countless bird species including blue herons, eagles, hawks, cranes, swans, chickadees, grosbeaks, goldfinches, pine siskens, stellar's jays, belted kingfishers, woodpeckers, owls, sparrows, Canada geese, hummingbirds, pheasants, quails, turkey vultures, kestrels, flickers and more! Keep those eyes open and cameras ready because you never know when an opportunity to see wildlife will present itself!

RIVER OF IMPORTANCE RESPECT & PROTECT

Pure Graphics

The Shuswap River

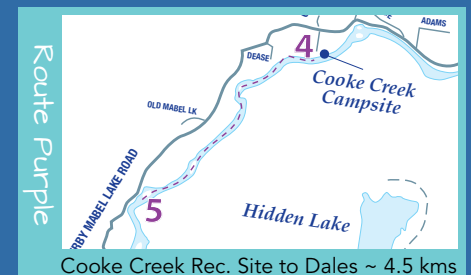

The Shuswap River is of tremendous ecological and cultural importance to the area and its meandering waters act as the lifeline for our spring, chinook, kokanee and sockeye salmon who continue to return to the Shuswap from July to October. Treating the river with the respect it deserves is of the utmost importance to our community and we ask that anybody enjoying the river adopts this philosophy. Please pack out what you pack in!

River access points allow for easy entry and exit along the river and offer bathrooms, garbage cans and parking.

River Ambassadors

River Ambassadors are present during the summer months to provide information on interacting with the river in a safe and responsible manner. This innovative program encourages river safety and environmental stewardship to river users. They offer a wealth of information for those seeking it while enjoying the recreational bounty the river has to offer.

FRESHWATER FUN!

SERENITY ENDERBY
E 2015
2016

Numerous smaller lakes in the area provide ample recreation opportunities.

For a quiet day of bird watching, fishing or swimming, make a trip to Gardom Lake. The lake has a motor limit to ensure quietude and a large population of painted turtles. A regional park, a boat launch, two year-round camps, and rental cabins are all available.

Scenic Hidden Lake is perfect for a camping weekend of swimming, hiking, fishing and canoeing with the family.

Pitch a tent and enjoy a quiet fishing week end with a small boat or canoe at the remote Baird Lake located past Hidden Lake or at Noreen, Holiday or Stony Lake, a trio of marshy lakes in the hills above the northwest corner of Mabel Lake. Good fishing and bird watching are available at Elbow, Grassy, Dale and Spruce Lakes but the May 2014 washout of Dale Lake has eliminated access from Cooke Creek Road. Current access via Kingfisher-Three Valley Gap Road requires some local knowledge and good tires. Kidney Lake off Kingfisher-Three Valley Gap Road is still a great fishing hole, as is Rosemond Lake, which is only accessible by canoe or rowboat at the south end of Mara Lake.

Mara Lake

Azure water and white sandy beaches surround this beautiful lake. The shores of Mara Lake feature a provincial park, boat launch, private campgrounds and resort developments. The area is ideal for summer recreation including waterskiing, boating, camping and swimming. The nearby rural community of Mara has several amenities including a store, hall, park and bed & breakfasts.

Mabel Lake

A vista of deep blue water surrounded by green mountains greets visitors to Mabel Lake. Enjoy swimming, boating, waterskiing, canoeing, kayaking, hiking and fishing at this lake east of Enderby that stretches 26 km in length and 2 km in width. Lakeside amenities include public beach areas, a golf course and resort, two boat launches, a children's camp, a store, an established marina plus a brand new marina. Campers can also enjoy the lake with a visit to Cottonwood Beach or Noisy Creek campgrounds.

DROP US A LINE YEAR ROUND FISHING

Fishing is a year round activity in and around Enderby!

Spring, chinook, kokanee and sockeye salmon swim from late summer to early fall as they make their way back to their spawning grounds on the Shuswap River east of Enderby. Cooke Creek campground on Mabel Lake Road is the ideal casting spot during salmon season. Fishing for rainbow trout and whitefish is done year round in the river and throughout many of the surrounding lakes. Gardom Lake and Hidden Lake are both fantastic spots for ice fishing in the winter. Fishing licenses are required

HOST LARGE EVENTS

Enderby hosted almost 2,500 Girl Guides and their leaders at the Spirit of Adventure Rendezvous 2014 at Riverside Park July 19-26.

Guides from across B.C. and Canada were joined by girls from the United States, United Kingdom, New Zealand, Australia, Grenada and Japan for a week of fun events and activities.

The SOAR tent city included a food distribution centre, cafeteria, general store, medical centre, stage with sound system plus the thousands of campers' tents.

The girls hiked, swam, kayaked, canoed, explored, scuba dived and did a variety of programs to expand their knowledge and skills. They also did service work to benefit local communities and service groups, leaving behind some legacy projects.

Enderby provided its small town hospitality when a huge rainstorm evacuated the SOAR tent city and left the girls with wet bedding. Community members came out in droves to help out, drying the bedding at home and returning it to the grateful campers. And Sutherland's Bakery and Ice Cream was a favourite stop for Guides looking for something sweet.

SOAR 2014 drew raves from participants and citizens alike. It demonstrated not only Enderby's ability to host large events with its amenities and ample recreational opportunities, but also its small town charm.

FARM LIFE
LOCALLY PRODUCED

Agriculture is a big part of the Enderby area and much of the local economy is derived from its many forms. There are farmers of dairy and beef cattle, sheep, chickens, pigs, goats, bison, alpacas, llamas and emus. The weather supports a wide array of fruits and vegetables including plums, apples, strawberries, cherries, potatoes, tomatoes, corn, peas and much more.

Visit a farmers' market in Enderby, Kingfisher, or Grindrod and find local honey, eggs, produce, chocolate, meat and more. Or step into an agricultural experience at community events like the Garlic Festival in Grindrod, the Plowing Match in Spallumcheen, and the Interior Provincial Exhibition in Armstrong.

Waterside Winery

Waterside Winery just north of Enderby is a young vineyard opened by Branko and Debbie Juric in the fall of 2014. Since 2009, the couple has cultivated six varieties of grapes on their rural property including the winter-hardy Ortega and Siegerrebe. These aromatic and flavourful grapes provide good yields while being disease resistant. They have developed a nice selection of wines that include Marechal Foch, Okanagan Sweet Cru and Rosé, which they invite you to sample in their bright tasting room.

Edge of the Earth Vineyards

Russ and Marni Niles have run Edge of the Earth Vineyards near Armstrong since 2002. Their sunny vineyard's deep mineral soil and sparkling clean water produce wines of outstanding freshness, character and richness. They grow over half their own grapes, getting the balance from small North Okanagan vineyards and in Osoyoos, and processing all the wine in-house. From Marechal Foch to Pinot Noir Icewine, this vineyard provides an excellent product at a great value.

Sunnybrae Winery

The aptly-named Sunnybrae Winery nestled below Bastion Mountain in Tappen boasts its own micro-climate perfect for grape growing. Five varieties of cool-climate grapes grown since 2005 at the south-sloping volcanic ash vineyard enjoy warm summer days and cool evening breezes. The result is a fine selection of white, red and rosé wines produced on site using 100 per cent B.C.-grown grapes. Barry and Nancy Turner invite people to their craftsman-style winery to enjoy the fabulous views and sample some product in the tasting room.
